

Dove ©2013 Words and Music by Dan May

VERSE ONE

There

Half a world away there waits a child
Whose eyes are filled with longing, but a smile
Knowing hope, and help are on the way

Here

We hold it in our hands and in our hearts
The power that we have to make a start
Promise made, of hope and better days

CHORUS

On the wings of a dove
We will rise high above
All our differences, so far in the past

Through the eyes of the children
See the bridges we're building
Hope will find a way
Love will save the day
And peace will last

VERSE 2

Then

We were young and far away from home
Cast into a world we'd never known
In a time, so surreal

Now

There's a chance to go back and repair
Damage that was done when we were there
Pain we feel, scars we heal

CHORUS

On the wings of a dove
We will rise high above
All our differences, so far in the past

Through the eyes of the children
See the bridges we're building
Hope will find a way
Love will save the day
And peace will last

BRIDGE

And the chasm that we're spanning
With peace and understanding
A chance for making right
What once was wrong

Friendship that will give us
Solace and forgiveness
And bonds we hope will last
Forever strong

CHORUS

On the wings of a dove
We will rise high above
All our differences, so far in the past

And the fences we're mending
With the message we're sending
Hope will find a way
Love will save the day
And peace will last

Hope will find a way
Love will save the day
And peace will last